Tips For Running An Advertisement And Getting It Right

The Planning office will write the ad when the application is submitted. It is the applicant's responsibility to get the ad to the newspaper.

This must be published at least 7 days and not more than 21 days before the hearing.

Generally you must submit this to the Paducah Sun before 12 Noon on the day before you want this published. They are located at 408 Kentucky Ave. Their FAX number is 443-7465. Their voice number is 270-575-8600. The law requires you to use the newspaper with the widest circulation -- the Paducah Sun.

You must provide an original copy of the published advertisement prior to the hearing.

You will be responsible for paying Paducah Sun.

Notifying the Neighbors

As required by the commission, the adjacent property owners shall be notified by First Class Mail. It is your responsibility to identify all of the adjacent property owners.

The Zoning Administrator will mail the letters.

The adjacent property owners are the property owners within 200' on either side of your property, to the rear of your property, and properties across the street qualify as "adjacent" for the purpose of the case.

You may find out who the adjacent property owners are by the following methods:

1. Visit the Property Valuation Office, located in the Court House Annex at 621 Washington Street.
2. Conduct a field survey by looking for names on mailboxes. You may have to knock on some doors.

Preparing the Drawings

As required by the ordinance, the applicant shall prepare a drawing and text that depicts the property in question and shows how it will be used if the approved similar use is approved.

Generally, many property owners can competently prepare text and graphics that are suitable for the hearing. While it is not required, the very easiest thing to do is have a professional architect, engineer, or surveyors prepare the drawing. You may also want to consider legal advice. Professionals are very qualified, and they generally know what we desire. As many of the professionals have been through this before, they can often give you valuable advice for winning your case. Usually they will help represent you at the public hearing. Of course, utilizing professionals comes with a cost. It is your case and if it is critical to you economically, then you should consider professional assistance.

The quality of the drawing should substantially depict the existing and proposed conditions. Since approvals are not guaranteed, non-essential details may be omitted as a way to spare expense. If an approval is made, one can then make the necessary investments to satisfy permit requirements. For example, we do not normally recommend that full drainage studies be commissioned prior to the hearing. The board or the ordinance may require it, but that will be at a later time.

If you are preparing your own drawing, you should include the following information on the graphic:

1. The boundary of the subject property and the zoning and owner names and addresses for all adjoining property;
2. Date, appropriate North point, and graphic scale.
3. Drawn to a scale of one hundred (100) feet to one (1) inch or larger.
4. Location, arrangement and approximate dimensions of existing and proposed streets, roads, driveways, sidewalks, and parking areas.
5. Perimeter screening (existing and planned) and other open spaces.
6. Approximate size, location, floor area, and use of proposed and existing buildings.
7. Minimum building setback lines.

8. Floodplain as determined by Federal Emergency Management Agency, (FEMA.), and classification, as per FEMA codes – if applicable.
9. Approximate location and dimensions of storm drainage areas, conceptual drainage controls and stormwater retention – if applicable.
10. Drawings shall be submitted not larger than 24 x 36 inches in size. They can often be done on a standard 8 1/2 x 11 sheet of paper.
11. Owners Certificate (if prepared by self): I certify that I am the owner, or authorized applicant, of the property shown on this sketch. The information is, to the best of my knowledge, true, correct, and an accurate representation of the existing and proposed conditions. This is not a survey or plat. This sketch is not suitable for any other purpose. The information contained has been obtained from existing records and/or in-the-field observations. I understand that I am responsible for the accuracy of the information and not McCracken County. I further acknowledge that any approvals or denials will be made, in-part, based upon the information contained hereon. McCracken County may inspect the property.

Tips For Preparing An Acceptable Drawing

A sample drawing is included with this packet for you to use a guide.

You may purchase inexpensive drawing aids, such as scales and/or graph paper, at local office supply stores. Another good place to go is Paducah Blueprint, located at 999 Broadway. They have everything you will need to prepare an acceptable document.

S Also readily accessible graphics programs can be found that work nicely.

The Public Hearing

Only after the Commission accepts a proper application, and the proper advertising is complete (neighbors notified by mail, and an advertisement placed in the paper), will a public hearing be conducted.

The meeting, conducted by the Commission Chairperson, is generally an informal affair, but will be orderly. You will be asked to present your case. You should cover the following information:

1. Identify the existing zoning of the subject property.
2. Characterize the site conditions of the subject property.
3. Characterize the land uses in the general area around the subject property.
4. Present the plan. Show your drawing, and describe the future use the property. You should demonstrate that the proposed use is substantially similar to one of the principal permitted uses. You should describe future buildings and their use, parking, traffic flow, storm drainage controls, and any landscaping, fencing or screening.

Key Point: It is your burden to show that the proposed use is similar to one of the principal permitted uses in the zone in question.

As it is a public hearing, the Chairman will ask if anyone is at the meeting that wishes to comment or ask questions about the proposal. Usually some one will speak up if they perceive there is any problem that affects their property. The public tends to ask about traffic, drainage, noise, screening, and property values. Think ahead about what is really important to the project and what conditions you are willing to negotiate. The Commission listens carefully to public input, especially those things that are legitimate and reasonable.
